

1    ABSTRACT

2           An embodiment of the invention evaluates the 3   suitability of routes for use in a network route cache.  An 4   embodiment of the invention allows the use of network
5   routing caches to be optimized such that routes that are 6   not used to route to a large number of destinations can be 7   offloaded into a less expensive host route cache.
